A Guide for Ascension Seekers

1. Can I send Marconic Energy into crystals?

ANSWER: Crystals are not used during the Marconics healing sessions. Clients are encouraged to remove all crystals and crystal jewelry prior to a session as some crystals are now a lower vibration than Marconics. As a practitioner you can raise the energy of your crystals by beaming them with Marconic energy.

Prior to using crystals they should be cleansed according to their type (water, smoke, salt) and charged in sunlight or moonlight. If you are called to crystals we recommend Clear Quartz which can be cleansed in cool clear running water (or sea water or sea salt) and charged in the sun, or moon, for a few hours. Quartz will help clear and transmute lower vibrational energy to 'white light' and shares information through a monadic Oversoul with other crystals within the Quartz family.

As a practitioner you can infuse crystals with Marconics by simply calling in the energy and sending the energy from your hands to your crystals.

2. My energy was definitely changed by the session. When will I learn what my soul purpose is?

ANSWER: Each individual carries a specific and unique soul purpose – the reason they chose to incarnate in this lifetime and the mission their soul wishes to complete during this incarnation. That is to be revealed to each client by their own faculty of guides and higher selves when they are ready to receive it. That cannot be delivered by the practitioner to the client. The practitioner can only facilitate the bridging between the dimensions during the sessions that enables that connection to be made. It is important that neither the client, nor the practitioner approach any single session with intentions for healing outcomes. The outcomes are not delivered based on client expectations, they are delivered based on the appropriateness of the healing (physical, emotional, mental, or spiritual) as directed by the higher selves.

- 3. I've seen references to the Human Energy Torus and Finite/Infinite Quantum Field. Could you elaborate on this?

ANSWER: You can imagine that an Energy Torus looks like an intertube or a large doughnut that continually has energy moving through it in a cyclical fashion. The current Human 2.0 Energy Torus is a 'closed circuit finite system' meaning that it is self-fed, like a star feeding off of its own finite supply of gasses. The closed circuit finite Torus is also repeated between the Earth's core and the Crystalline Grid of the Planet. The Human 2.0 is confined within the current matrix of the 12 Dimensions under our Crystalline Grid.

All karmic incarnational cycles, including the experiences of Heaven, are contained within this Matrix at varying vibrational frequencies as our souls are cycled and recycled through the Earth Grid/Crystalline Grid Energy Torus.

In order to ascend out of the matrix and truly reconnect with Source energy your field must be Recalibrated from the Human 2.0 Finite Torus and 3D Lightbody Blueprint which continues to create Karma and is fed from the closed circuit finite system, to the Human 3.0 Infinite Lightbody Blueprint which is freed of creating new Karma and is opened and fed directly via Source through the Galactic Core.

- 4. After participating in a Marconics class or private session, many participants noted that they had strong reactions. For example, one had a stomachache on the way home. The other had a strange sensation in his body and felt disoriented. Can you explain this?

ANSWER: Many clients and students experiencing clearings that go on for hours, days and weeks after their sessions. As cellular memory and karmic imprints are released from the physical and subtle bodies it is not uncommon to experience the release physically in ways that we would perceive to be positive: healings, increased energy, joy, compassion, detachment, better health OR in a way that we would perceive to be negative: headaches, frequent or urgent bathroom trips, stomach aches, flu like symptoms. This is nothing to fear and is a good sign that the individual is releasing density from their energy field as their vibrational frequency is raised.

5. I've seen reference to a notable shift having happened on December 21st, 2012. However, another source states that according to the Mayan Calendar the big day was supposed to be September 3rd, 2015. What does this mean?

ANSWER: The Mayan calendar has several interpretations of dates with regard to the end of the Ba'k'tuns. There is also more than one "big day." As we discussed in class there is no end to the shift, it was not like a runner crossing the finish line of a race. The energy is washing over us in waves and we were in the X-Wave Sept 14, 2015- Sept 28, 2015. There are other timeframes we have been informed of as well. The Spiritual Hierarchy does not like to give specific dates because timelines are always shifting and changing. A scenario that might have been true on yesterday's timeline may not be true tomorrow. The energy we just passed through was substantial and what you do experience will be in alignment with your vibration and your belief system. Remember we are the co-creators of our reality.

6. Are all other healing practices other than Marconics considered to be 3rd dimensional?

ANSWER: No, there are several modalities that are utilizing higher frequencies for healing. Marconics is the frequency of energy we use for Ascension – The Spiritual Hierarchy has told us that there were several modalities being made available for this time period (after 2012) and that Marconics is THE vehicle of Ascension because currently Marconics is the only one achieving Ascension. Third dimensional healing modalities are still powerful, but are for those who are contracted to stay in the 3rd dimension. For those contracting to go higher, the third dimensional modalities will cease to work for them as they develop the next level of Lightbody or make the transition through Marconic Recalibration to Human 3.0.

7. Marconics calls on support from Galactic Beings as well as Angels and Archangels. What dimension are they coming from and what energy do they provide in a Marconics Session?

ANSWER: We do not call down individual beings in a Marconics session. The call to the energy is an invitation to beings of highest vibrational frequency only and in alliance with Grace Elohim because she is the overseer of Marconics and the Human 1.0, 2.0. and 3.0 projects. The Archangels, Seraphiam, Elohim, Pleiadians, Sirians, Cherubim all come from different dimensions beginning in 5th and going higher and in some cases different universes.

8. What is the Merkaba that is currently in use for the Lightbody?

ANSWER: The shape itself is called a Double Star Tetrahedron. There are over 2000 different types of Merkabas. Mer Ka Ba translated means “Light Spirit Body” and is the vehicle used by our consciousness to reach higher dimensions. The star shaped Merkaba is the Lightbody that will be limited to travel within this time matrix of dimensions 1-12 under our Crystalline Grid.

9. How do you locate your Merkaba?

ANSWER: If you were looking at a 2 dimensional representation drawn on paper it would be perceived as the Star of David configuration - overlaying upward and downward facing pyramids, their apexes would align with the Alpha and Omega Chakras. A three dimensional representation draws it up into the shaped of the 12 point tetrahedron. (Only you can activate your Merkaba.)

In Marconics we strive to move beyond this level of Merkaba because in order to achieve Ascension out of this matrix we need to activate our next level of Lightbody that is required for Human 3.0 – this is constructed during the Recalibration.

- 10. I understand that Marconic energy is sent to the client through the practitioner. However, I wonder if it would be more efficient for it to be sent to the client. Why do we need to let the energy flow through the practitioner?

ANSWER: The practitioner is the bridge between the dimensions. The energy is sent directly to the client however it needs a path to run on. Light can be refracted through a crystal to make a rainbow on the wall. The light can beam the wall directly but without the crystal, the rainbow cannot be achieved.

- 11. Is it okay to do any other healing or energy work after the session? Why isn't Marconics mixed with other healing energies? All come from the higher dimensional places in the Universe anyway...

ANSWER: Please remember that although Marconics triggers spontaneous healings, it is specifically for Ascension.

If you mix Marconics with another frequency it ceases to be Marconics – you dull the frequency and vibration. This can be damaging to the a DNA activations that are occurring as the transformation from 3D to a 5D Lightbody takes place. When a client bounces back and forth between 3D and 5D+ energies they are shedding density and then adding it back in making the clearing process that much more difficult. If you practice many healing modalities and are called to become a Marconics practitioner you can continue to offer those other techniques separately from Marconics.

From our perspective, we offer a client an opportunity to experience the most powerful and profound energy we have access to, to be the bridge for them to commune or integrate with their higher selves, why would we give them something else? If your clients are feeling like they have hit an invisible ceiling or if you are the one at the ceiling, chances are the 3D energy techniques you've been using are no longer effective for you or that client. You have a ticket for Ascension and Marconics is the vehicle.
